REVOLT RAGING IN HOLLAND, LONDON HEARS

175,000 Prisoners Taken As Axis In N. Africa Collapses; 16 Foe Generals "In The Bag"

Among Them Is Gen. Giovanni Messe, Commander of Italian First

ALL ORGANIZED RESISTANCE ENDS

Allied Air Force Transfers Its Offensive Across Mediterranean

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 13.—Allied troops today captured the last remnants of Hitler's African army in Tunisia today to round out a victory which Gen. Sir Harold Alexander said was "one of the most complete and decisive in history."

A military spokesman estimated that the prisoners would total "near 175,000" when the last of the holdout detachments were rounded up in the offensive launched May 5.

All organized resistance had ended.

The Allied air force, with no more targets in North Africa, moved its aerial offensive across the Mediterranean.

German and Italian armies were crushed and their commander in chief, Col. Gen. Jurgun von Arnim, was among the 150,000 captives already counted.

At least 16 Axis generals were in the bag.

Among these was Gen. Giovanni Messe—whom the Rome radio identified as a marshal and commander of the Italian First Army.

Messe was one of the last to hold out in the southern pocket. Called upon to yield, he refused to surrender to any but his old opponents in the British Eighth Army. That formality was arranged.

It was reported here, but not confirmed, that one of the sons-in-law of King Vittorio Emanuele of Italy was fighting under Messe and surrendered to him.

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson of the British First Army received Von Arnim yesterday in his headquarters tent after the German, refusing to accept terms of unconditional surrender, was driven nearly 100 miles by automobile for an interview.

Illustrating the Allied dominance, the British told war correspondents: "The situation is such that if Von Arnim won't sign the terms it won't matter anyhow."

Von Arnim was cornered by the Fourth Indian division near Ste. Marie Du Zit, midway between Tunis and Enfidaville and on the approaches to the Cap Bon peninsula. He sent out envoys under a white flag and then surrendered, but declined to sign the terms.

These were that the enemy cease destruction of war material, turn over weapons, undamaged, reveal details of mine fields and assist in clearing them.

The small pockets of German soldiers who fought on either had not heard about the general debacle or preferred to remain in action despite the surrender of their commander.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, reviewing the six-month campaign, said General Alexander, his deputy commander in chief in charge of ground forces, maneuvered cleverly so the First Army got in the knockout punch from the west while the bulk of the enemy troops were held on the southern front by the fact "everyone, including the Germans," expected the Eighth Army again would strike the major blow.

Captured By Allies In Africa

Supreme Commander of all Axis North African forces, Col. Gen. Jurgun von Arnim, 54, was captured by British troops on Cap Bon peninsula as the last Axis resistance in Africa was smashed by the victorious Allies. Von Arnim, who succeeded Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in Africa some months ago, is the most important German officer yet seized by the Allies. General Von Arnim is shown in the photo above.

His Baggage, Not His Troops, Von Arnim's Greatest Worry

Captured Axis Generals, Majors, Colonels Tramp Through British First Army Mess Tent

By DANIEL DE LUCE

BRITISH FIRST ARMY HEADQUARTERS, TUNISIA, May 13.—Dust-stained Col. Gen. Jurgun von Arnim, captured commander of the conquered Axis forces in Africa, refused to sign the surrender terms of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson and was sent to the rear today more anxious about his baggage than his troops.

Driven nearly 100 miles in an automobile after sending out envoys with a white flag and surrendering, Von Arnim was received last night by Gen. Anderson in the tent in a green pasture from which he directed the drive of his forces.

Anderson's refused terms were that the enemy cease destruction of war material, relinquish weapons undamaged, give details of mine fields and aid in clearing them—but the refusal was academic.

Anderson himself told war correspondents that it didn't matter anyhow, underlining the completeness of the Axis debacle.

Officially Von Arnim was captured by troops of the British Eighth Army's Fourth Indian division which attacked the enemy's first army a week ago.

Cornered near Ste. Marie Du Zit, Von Arnim sent out envoys with a white flag, surrendered and was interviewed last night by Gen. Anderson in his pasture tent. After that the matter met Allied war correspondents.

Von Arnim and all other captured generals were accorded full military courtesies.

As the inflow of prisoners continued one military source said that the total bag of captives since May 5 probably would approach 175,000.

Standing in the moonlit British headquarters after a hot supper last night, Von Arnim's only comments were about his baggage which was being transferred from one truck to another.

The procession of Axis commanders through the mess tent here for meals included General Count Sponeck, commander of the Nineteenth Light Infantry division; Major General Franz of the Nineteenth Anti-Aircraft division and the past few days acting commander of the Goering division; Major General Broich of the Tenth Armored division; Major General Hulsen, acting commander of the Twenty-first Armored division; General Kramer; and General La Costa, of the Centuro division and president of the Italian military tribunal. An Italian military chauffeur was the most distressed of all the Axis prisoners last night when he had to give up his automobile which he referred to as "Bambino" (baby).

1,500 TONS OF BOMBS LET GO ON DUISBURG

Heaviest Attack of War On Germany Is Reported By London

34 BOMBERS ARE LISTED AS MISSING

Raiders Stream Over Channel This Morning, Following Night Raid

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, May 13.—British bombers delivered their heaviest attack of the war on Germany last night, dropping more than 1,500 tons of bombs on the battered industrial center of Duisburg, it was announced today.

Thirty-four bombers were reported lost in the raid—the first great night attack on the Reich since the smashing assault on Dortmund May 4.

Allied raiders followed up this assault by streaming across the English channel this morning in bright sunlight to smash at the coast of occupied France. The rumble of heavy explosions rolled back across the channel, and later twin-motored bombers came winging home under a swarming escort of fighters.

Duisburg, situated at the junction of the Rhine and Ruhr, is a vital transport and communications center in addition to being the site of important war industries.

It was last bombed the night of April 6, when heavy RAF bombers unloaded 1,350 tons of high explosives on the city in one of the mightiest assaults undertaken by the RAF up to that time.

(The German high command communique said explosives and incendiaries wrought extensive damage in some places of western Germany, "particularly in the city areas of business." Broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, it said the population suffered casualties.)

A Canadian who participated in the great raid said:

"There were lots of really neat fires, but one that topped anything I have seen. It started with an explosion that shot flames 2,000 feet high. When it died down thick black smoke rose about 6,000 feet."

Another crewman described the bomb burst as a "granddaddy explosion that started with a tremendous white flash and lasted long enough for me to look up from the controls and see it die away."

All expressed conviction a huge ammunition dump had received a direct hit.

LISBON PROGRAM MARKS SENIOR DAY

LISBON, May 13.—Senior day was observed in David Anderson High school Wednesday, when honor students were announced by Miss Sadie Van Poyssan, principal, at special chapel exercises during the morning.

First honors in scholarship were awarded Frances Ann Evans; second, Anne Novicky, with Robert Mazur, Walter Stookesberry and Doris Stafford receiving honorable mention.

Results of the general scholarship tests for seniors, in which nine Lisbon students participated, revealed four placed within the first ten in the county. Robert Farrell placed second and received honorable mention in the district, while Robert Mazur was fourth, Frances Ann Evans, eighth, and Louis O'Neill, ninth.

Louis O'Neill, class president, presided over the chapel program, during which the class history, prophecy, will and popularity contest were read.

The day of special privileges for the Seniors was climaxed with a dance held in the gymnasium last evening.

REJECTIONS HIGH IN DRAFT EXAMS

Twenty men were inducted into the Army and eight others into the Navy when a contingent of Salem district draftees—two bus loads strong—went to Akron for physical examinations yesterday.

Rejections averaged about 50 per cent, according to the unofficial report. The inductees' roster has not been received by the draft board.

Those who were sworn into the Army will leave here next Wednesday afternoon, by train, for Fort Hayes, Columbus.

REV. KEISTER WILL HEAD FUND DRIVE

Aid For Service Men, Church Abroad, Other Activities Sought

Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, has been appointed area captain for the one million dollar fund raising campaign of the National Lutheran bodies of the National Lutheran council.

During the one-month drive Rev. Keister will supervise the drive in this area, covering Leetonia, Greenford, Alliance, Sebring, Alliance, North Georgetown, Lisbon and Salem.

Next Sunday is the day that the offering will be received in the congregations of the Synod of Ohio, of the United Lutheran church in America, of which Holy Trinity congregation of Salem is a member. Most of the other synods and congregations will receive the offerings on Sunday, May 23.

One half of this million dollar fund is to be used for special work among men and women in the armed services. The Service commission now operates 32 service centers and 23 parish centers to meet the spiritual needs of 200,000 Lutherans in the armed forces, Rev. Keister said.

A total of $270,000 is to be used for the church abroad, whose parent organizations in Europe and America have been forced by the war to curtail or abandon foreign fields; $150,000 is designated for the ministry to industrial workers because recent surveys reveal that there are 200,000 Lutherans among those moving into defense areas; $15,000 will go to the War Prisoners' aid; $10,000 for special war refugee work and $5,000 for an additional contribution to the American Bible society.

Lutheran bodies cooperating in the drive are the United Lutheran Church in America, American Lutheran church, Augustana Swedish synod, Danish Lutheran church, Finnish Lutheran church, Lutheran Free church, Norwegian Lutheran church, and United Danish Lutheran church. These groups total 2,300,000 members in 10,000 congregations.

Temporarily, the outbreak overshadowed the steady, grinding drive by the Red army against the line of German fortifications outside Novorossisk where a German counter-attack was thrust back and Red army artillery kept up its attacks on the German blockhouses and artillery posts.

The German high command said Red army attacks were repulsed both on the Kuban bridgehead and north of Litschansk. The communique, broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, credited Nazi fighter planes with sinking a 3,000-ton freighter in the Arctic sea.

Moscow, in a special broadcast, said the Red air force had inflicted heavy damage in 12 more raids on German communications centers bringing the total of such attacks to more than 50 in four consecutive days. Some of the cities were targets for the second or third night in succession.

The midnight communique said that in aerial battles 18 more German planes were shot down with a loss of five Soviet craft.

DEERFIELD DRIVER IS ASSESSED $100

Louis Sklenicka, 35, of Deerfield, arrested by Patrolman Martin Lutsch, Jr., on a charge of driving while intoxicated, following an accident, drew a fine of $100 and costs in Mayor R. R. Johnson's court this morning.

Sklenicka, arrested by the state patrol a year ago on a similar charge, sidestepped a Beery taxi cab operated by Robert Miller of Arch st., near Perry st. and S. Lundy ave. at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, the police report states. Miller crowded the other driver to the curb when he failed to stop after the accident.

Buy Coal Now

WASHINGTON, May 13.—To "avoid serious risks of grave shortages next winter," Transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman today urged coal consumers to order their supply immediately.

The railroads, he said, can transport enough coal to meet prospective demands for next winter only if the fuel is kept moving throughout the year.

Beloit Child Dies When Hit By Auto

Two hours after being struck by an automobile on the Johnson road near Sebring, three-year-old Lloyd Smith died in Alliance City hospital at 8:45 p. m. Wednesday. The car was driven by Charles Engle, police said.

The child, a son of Mrs. Anna Richards of R. D. 2, Beloit, died of a fractured skull.

Hospital attendants reported that he apparently ran in front of the automobile. Engle took the child to the hospital.

SOVIETS POUNDING NAZIS IN DONETS

Take Important Hill, Continue Drive Against Novorossisk

(By Associated Press) LONDON, May 13.—Russian troops in a resurgence of fighting in the Donets river valley around Litschansk, about 15 miles southeast of Kharkov, have occupied a hill described in the Soviet news communique today as "a height of great tactical importance" after rolling back German armor and crushing an enemy wedge thrust into a town held by the Russians.

More than 1,000 Germans were killed and about 1,000 were captured, along with a great store of military equipment in a battle which continued last night, Russian war bulletins said.

Temporarily, the outbreak overshadowed the steady, grinding drive by the Red army against the line of German fortifications outside Novorossisk where a German counter-attack was thrust back and Red army artillery kept up its attacks on the German blockhouses and artillery posts.

The German high command said Red army attacks were repulsed both on the Kuban bridgehead and north of Litschansk. The communique, broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, credited Nazi fighter planes with sinking a 3,000-ton freighter in the Arctic sea.

Attacks On German Troops, Sabotage Reported As All Of Hitler's Europe Shakes to Reverberations of Allies' Africa Victory

LONDON, May 13.—Reports from the continent said today revolt was raging in occupied Holland and had spread "like wildfire" across the border into Belgium, where there was a series of attacks on German troops, military establishments and communications.

Reverberations of the Allied victory in Africa were said to be shaking the whole of Hitler's Europe.

Accounts of sabotage, armed clashes and general resistance poured in from Poland, Norway, Yugoslavia and Greece, but the Dutch and Belgians appeared to be giving Nazi occupation forces the greatest trouble.

There were indications in reports reaching here that the Germans were sending additional troops into the low countries, but it was not clear whether this was in anticipation of an Allied invasion or to suppress rebellion.

CAPITAL PARLEY PROBLEM FOR TOJO

FDR - Churchill Talks Far From Reassuring For Tokyo Gang

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Jap Premier Tojo—He "sho" shakes hands with his right and stabs with his left—undoubtedly would give a shiver of Nippon's plunder if he could get his hand-working far to the keyhole of the Roosevelt-Churchill conference room and learn the reasons for the dramatic appearance of the chiefs of the three British fighting services in the Indian theater.

The presence of this noted trio—Field Marshal Sir Archibald Wavell, Admiral Sir James Somerville and Air Chief Marshal Sir Richard Peirse—is calculated to inspire anxious speculation in Tokyo. The trouble is it could mean any one of quite a lot of things. Hitler the Hun himself must be deeply interested, for the big three of the strategic Indian base would be consulted in connection with any Allied plans involving an invasion of the Balkans, or mid-eastern operations.

Two Main Reasons However, the main reasons why the Wavell-Somerville-Peirse combination has been called in probably are two. One is to check on the Japanese threat of a great offensive. The other is to go over the general situation and lay plans for a major drive against the Japs as soon as conditions permit.

One of these days, of course, the United Nations must launch a mighty attack to oust the Nipponese from Burma and open the famous Burma road so that supplies can be poured into China. Without these supplies the Chinese are powerless to wage major war on the Japanese offensive presumably will be a water-borne expedition across the Bay of Bengal from India—a dangerous and difficult task.

Such an invasion couldn't be carried out very well before September. India is just at the beginning of the summer monsoon with its deluge.

FINE TWO DRIVERS AFTER ACCIDENTS

Ira Wood, 69, of R. D. 1, Columbiana, was arrested by the state patrol on a charge of failure to yield the right of way as the result of an accident on Route 46, about a mile north of Columbiana, at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday.

The patrol said Wood's car came out of a drive into the path of a truck operated by Frank Vouchell, 32, of Chicago. Neither was injured.

Wood was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler in Washingtonville.

Freda Harroff, 26, of R. D. 1, New Waterford, was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Arthur Myers at Columbiana yesterday as the result of an accident on Route 14, a quarter of a mile east of Columbiana, Tuesday. She was charged with reckless driving after making a left turn in front of an oncoming car driven by Wayne Spalding, 6, of East Palestine. No one was injured in the crash.

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER

In Tunisia, Germans and Italians have had a foretaste of unconditional surrender. This is what the verdict at Casablanca called for. The Axis must be defeated everywhere as thoroughly as it has been defeated in North Africa.

The defeated armies—led by their defeated officers—must lay down their arms and admit complete loss of their ability to fight back. Ultimately, the politicians and militarists who plotted the war must file out of their bomb shelters and ask for mercy.

The populations of the defeated countries must be told by their glib-tongued radio orators and gagged press that their armies have been defeated—and why and how. They must hear from Hitler and Mussolini and Tojo that ghastly mistakes were made and at last are being acknowledged.

They must be warned by their leadership that the first sign of repeating the same mistakes will bring down on their heads the full force of the victors in the war—and the victors must make sure the Germans, Italians and Japanese know how destructive that force can be.

These are some of the essential details of unconditional surrender, the only terms the Allies will consider. They are suddenly important, because the dictator of Spain, Francisco Franco, has revealed that he would play the role of peacemaker. The war, he says, has reached a deadlock; it is senseless, therefore, to delay the peace.

The war has not reached a deadlock. That would be tantamount to a triumph for the military dictatorships. It has reached a turning point, at which even the misled Germans and Italians are beginning to understand that complete defeat is going to be their reward for tolerating Hitler and Mussolini. The decision at Casablanca now takes its proper place in the shape of coming events. The war will end when the side that started it surrenders unconditionally; otherwise, there can be no peace.

SHORT TALE WITH A LONG MORAL

Highway Highlights, which is a little news clipping sheet published by National Highway Users conference, tells about the newest dodge for getting around OPA price ceilings on second-hand motor vehicles.

Their natural price, governed by continued demand in the face of dwindling supply, tends to be considerably higher than the OPA ceilings. So when a farm truck, for example, is offered for sale and the price has been bid up to the OPA ceiling, with bidding incentive still strong, they may put a cow in the truck and bid on the combination. Thus, an $800 truck with a $100 cow in it may sell for $1,200. "In Maryland," reports Highway highlights, "they do it with hay rakes. By simply combining the sale of a motor vehicle with a hay rake, the seller may get several hundred dollars more for his truck than the OPA law allows."

The moral is that the people in this country are smarter than anybody; at least no one ever seems to stay ahead of them very long.

ALLIED COORDINATOR

Growing certainty that a supreme commander for the Allies must be named before any European invasion stirs a lingering doubt about the title of this indispensable official. It probably should not be commander, but coordinator, which would be more descriptive of the function performed.

Gen. Eisenhower as the supreme military authority in Tunisia evidently performed excellently as a coordinator and even was obscured by the activities of his subordinates, who apparently exercised extensive personal authority over their campaigns, subject only to the central planning that set them in motion and kept them adjusted to each other.

It has been pointed out in this connection that Tunisia was a triumph for Allied ability to combine fighting forces efficiently, and the lesson may be applied to the larger campaign to come with telling results. The fatal weakness of the Axis is, of course, its total lack of coordination as a military organization and the certainty that nothing can be done about it for the very good reason that the Germans consider themselves to be allied with inferiors who are useless for anything but service to Germany.

SOMETHING ELSE TO SUSPEND

The Ross bill relaxing certain employment restrictions on women and minors has kept the general assembly and a number of interested organization tied in knots throughout most of the current session. It probably will be passed by the house of representatives this week, however, thus ending the controversy.

It would be fortunate if at the same time the principal thing that created the controversy about the bill could be suspended for the duration, though that is hoping for too much. But certainly there should be some way in wartime for employers and the friends and champions of working people to exchange testimonials of good faith for the sake of solving their common war problems amicably.

The way things are now—the way they have been during discussions of the Ross bill—both sides assume that the war is going to be used as an excuse for taking unfair and permanent advantage of the other. All negotiations, consequently, must be carried on in an atmosphere of suspicion that would make a stranger wonder whether Americans are fighting an enemy outside the country or fighting each other inside the country.

There will not be, in the near future or for a long time to come, any decrease in the amount of labor or the amount of materials needed for military production—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, May 14

WHILE THERE is augury of some rather disagreeable and frustrating incidents in this day's astrological chart, yet there are as well testimonies of very propitious and pleasant adventures. Although the mind may be keyed to ideas and plans of ambitious weight, and the judgment may be sound if not brilliant, yet the impeding force may be due to low vitality or to bursts of temper and turmoil. In certain phases there may be romantic or dramatic urges, giving pleasure and gratification.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year in which their individual traits and conduct may prove a frustrating force over and against strong astral promise of success. Ambitious projects in which the public seems helpfully involved should thrive and bring position or influence.

A child born on this day may have splendid mental endowments and ingenuity, with ambitions and objectives of progressive scope. Yet a depressed attitude, low vitality, inclining to rash and irresponsible acts, might defeat its aspirations. Finances and romance may be stimulated.

HE'S STILL BLIND

DETROIT, May 13.—Evidence that Adolf Hitler himself suffered from one of the war neuroses, physical blindness, for six months after the last war was presented to the American Psychiatric association today.

In hysterical blindness, the eyes are not impaired in any way, but due to worry, strain, escapism, or some other nervous upset the victim is really blind for a time.

The report was made by Victor A. Gonda, M. D., of Loyola university school of medicine, Chicago. He described a case of hysterical blindness which he treated after the last war and in which sight was restored by the usual therapeutic measures, making the victim understand that his eyes are all right.

"Hitler," he said, "had a similar blindness, and not, as he wants the world to believe, a blindness caused by mustard gas."

Dr. Gonda said his authority was a German medical man, named Otfried Foerster, who he said died recently. Foerster, he said, told him he found in 1931 in the records of the German war office this statement:

"Corporal Hitler suffered from hysterical amblyopia. Amblyopia means blindness."

tioning. The official lists and tables of food are all set out very neatly with the exact amount of protein, carbohydrate, fat, vitamin and mineral requirements everybody should have, but it is left more or less to the imagination in what form they are going to get them.

For instance, I saw the other day in a magazine a photograph of the breakfast that we used to eat in 1942 and the breakfast that we are expected to eat in 1943. The pictures were in color and the food looked equally appetizing to a normal, average person.

Whereas the breakfast of 1942 consisted of fruit, two nice fried eggs, two strips of bacon and some toast, these last two items were replaced in the breakfast of 1943 by three large, thick pancakes of wheat cakes, maple syrup and a glass of milk. Now your average grade-school boy, bless his heart, would gulp this down with pleasure and get plenty of protein out of it, but the sight is enough to make a person with a duodenal ulcer or acid dyspepsia writhe.

Effect on Dyspepsia
If the wheat cakes were soft and tender, they would lie around in his stomach—for hours and hours and hours and hours. And they would make their presence known. They would feel as if a stone had been swallowed and sometimes as if it rolled over and all the bicarbonate of soda in the world would not medicine the dyspeptic to that sweet peace which he knew yesterday.

In the treatment of acid dyspepsia diet is of paramount importance and the use of proteins heads the preferred list because they arouse the secretion of the stomach the least, absorb the most acid and irritate the lining of the stomach least. The meat substitutes, such as spaghetti are likely to do just as much harm.

Allergy Victims
And the poor allergy victim. The one who is sensitive to some food.

condition used to be called neurasthenics or hypochondriacs. Treatment under a sympathetic nerve specialist is usually successful. Standard for army rejection is a matter of judgment on the part of the examiner and in general I would say that if the condition is so bad that the individual is not able to meet the problems of life promptly and decisively, he should be rejected.

About one-half or 75 per cent of them are sensitive to a vegetable or two. Some are sensitive to milk and some to eggs; a very few, to meat. As the allergic person looks over the list of things that are available to him, he must shudder and already anticipate the sacrifice that he has to make for his country. He will be really patriotic—red with the whites, white with his pallor and blue mentally.

Diabetics
Another group who are going to have to make some very nice calculations are the diabetics. There are said to be nearly 2,000,000 in the United States and while they are used to nice calculations, they probably haven't known anything yet. They are also faced with an abundance of carbohydrates and vegetable foods which they will promptly turn into sugar and which they cannot metabolize. Their protein sources will be reduced, certainly as far as meat is concerned, and the question is how many eggs they can get.

I am going to make some suggestions about these people in the near future—in fact, as soon as I find out what rationing is all about myself.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
S. M.: What is psychoneurosis?

What causes it, and is there any treatment for same? Just how bad does the case have to be when the Army will reject the individual?

Answer: A psychoneurosis consists of symptoms caused by an upset nervous system rather than any organic disease of the organs of the body. Patients with this

DEATH GOES NATIVE

By MAX LONG

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

We left Latham brooding down by the pool, and went back through the hedges to the cottages. Komako spoke only once.

"Aunt too bad for him and for her. But what she doing in Mrs. Delmar's house? What scare her so there?"

He chartered his course straight to Mrs. Delmar's. She did not answer our call, but we walked in, anyway. Things were much the same as we had seen them when trying the keys in the locks, except that the portable typewriter had been opened. A sheet of stiff blue cover paper was in the roller and I went over to examine it.

Neatly typed across the center was the title of the play—and underneath a line with "Bessie Delmar" as sole author. I shook my head over the utter futility of it. She was having the last word of a long and bitter argument. I picked up a large loose-leaf notebook, and had it in my hands when the lady stepped in. Josephine hesitating on the lanai behind her, turned away.

"What's the idea?" Mrs. Delmar asked indignantly.

"Come to tell you, you not going away," Komako said firmly, "no matter if all packed."

A strange light flared in her cat's eyes. "Been snooping, I see. Well, I'll leave here when I'm good and ready!"

"No!" Komako insisted. "I hold you for witness material. You was on sampan right after murder. Can prove that on you."

To my surprise her ruffled fur almost visibly subsided. She thought it over and then said almost carelessly: "Don't be a fool! You know I didn't kill my own husband—or get rid of his body afterwards." She glanced at me. "And I don't believe you did it, either. It may never be solved. But I've got to get to New York, don't you understand?" Now she began to show agitation. "Bronson blabbed when he had a drink. He told the idea of the play here—he may have written it to some writer friend—they'd steal it in a minute, it's so good!"

I shrugged and turned away, her silly egotism too much for me. But I could never reckon on Komako—he made himself comfortable on a chair and leaned toward her persuasively.

"Please to tell me story of play. You know I not steal it!" He chuckled richly. "Me—writing play! Funny, no? But I like so good to hear story."

She was plainly tempted to tell it, but she glanced at me uncertainly. I was quick to seize the opportunity to escape, for I loathe hearing authors tell their fiction.

"Suppose I go out to the sampan and get lunch ready, Komako? You come when the story is told."

Mrs. Delmar looked relieved and the kitty smile returned to her broad face.

Looking back, I don't believe she would have told the story of the play had I remained. But I was to blame myself bitterly for not being present when she unfolded it to a certain point to Komako.

He turned up on the sampan just as I finished opening cans and setting out our food. As usual, he was starved and the inner man had to be appeased before he began talking.

"Nice play," he observed finally. "Music, hula girls, dancing, luau—think, Hasty, everybody eating good Hawaiian food every night right on stage!"

"They would do over the 'Bird of Paradise' as an original!"

"She got white colony in it, too," Komako remarked.

"Oh! So that's what made them all so mad the night Delmar spouted it to them?" I laughed as I thought about their expressions. "Caricatures, of course, and anything but flattering."

"Maybe," Komako helped himself to more canned peaches. "But Delmar put in bad villain. Criminal what run off from police in States and is hiding in colony and—"

I upset my tea as I shot to my feet. "A criminal hiding in Waimakua? Who?"

"I not find out," Komako said regretfully. "Women show up to invite Mrs. Delmar for lunch, and she shut up like clam."

"Great Scott!" I began to pace the floor excitedly. "Suppose there really is a criminal hiding here? Suppose Delmar unearthed the story and put him in the play. Suppose the criminal found it out and killed Delmar to stop the play being sent to New York? Komako! It's the motive we've been looking for!"

"Could be," Komako said placidly, drinking the last of the peach juice from the can.

I strode three steps down the tiny cabin and back again, my nerves tingling with excitement. "The motive," I said again. "Komako! We've got it!"

Sometimes Komako's absorption in food enraged me. I had set out enough lunch for ten men, but now he got up and explored the bread box, returning to the table with another loaf of bread and a new jar of jam. "Hole in stomach not filled up yet," he explained as he carved huge slices of the bread. "I still think Mrs. Delmar is kind that could kill husband and not care."

"Well, that darn play is the crux of the situation any way you look at it. Either she did kill him so she could get sole credit and money for the play—or there is a criminal hiding here whose story they put into the play. We ought to lose no time in getting the truth out of her." I started away restlessly.

"No hurry," Komako said with aggravating calmness, and smeared another slice of bread with jam. "Can't talk to her while she is eating lunch with somebody."

I composed myself with an effort and sat down again. "Suppose we can't break her down? Suppose she won't tell you who the criminal is? Maybe she doesn't know the shoe fits somebody here—it wouldn't seem reasonable she'd wait around this long if she knew, now that I think of it. If she did, she'd know who killed her husband, and what it was all about, and she'd have cleared out long ago, scared to death. Because they'd know she knew too." I thought this over. "Or maybe she knows, and doesn't know the criminal knows—now there's an idea! In that case, her behavior would be explainable—"

"Too much knowing and not knowing," Komako grumbled. "Me, I got lost 'way back there."

"Well, let it pass. Anyway, we've got to get hold of that play and read it ourselves!"

"Keep shirt on," he advised. "We do pretty soon."

I drummed impatiently on the table for a while, thinking it all out. "But suppose," I said, "the character in the play is a murderer wanted in the States, and the description fits, say, Herb. Then how are we going to check on whether such a character is real? If we were only in a city! The police would have access to accounts of criminals who have disappeared. If we only had a morgue—"

"Hail!" Komako looked startled. "We already sent body to undertaker. What more—"

I explained a newspaper morgue where descriptions and pictures of wanted people could be unearthed. He began to beam and wiped the jam from his fingers before he unbuttoned his shirt and brought out the loose-leaf notebook I had seen on Mrs. Delmar's typewriter table.

"Maybe this help? Got pictures. I looked inside while Mrs. Delmar is talking with women—I think maybe it got something."

I opened it and saw that it contained typewritten notes of suggestions for plots. About half-way through the book there was a page lettered: Famous Unsolved Crimes. Newspaper clippings were pasted on the pages following, often accompanied by pictures.

"Has it got something!" I cried. "Here's one checked with a red pencil. New York doctor, obstetrician who had to take it on the run. His name's Johnson, but—"

Komako landed with a thud at my side and clutched one side of the notebook as he reached for his reading glasses.

"Could be our doctor here?" He bent over the page. "Too bad no picture.... Hmmm! Sound like Latham, no, Hasty?"

"It's not very detailed," I said, "but it may serve to start something. I'll read 'em aloud while you finish your lunch."

The Delmars must have collected their morgue over a period of years. There were stories of escaped murderers, missing thieves, evaders of income tax who had left the country. Not a picture among the clippings, resembled any of the colonists in the slightest degree, so we concentrated on those with word descriptions of the criminals. One page was smudged and looked as if it might have seen more wear than the others. It was the story of an embezzler who dissolved into thin air before his bank was found to be insolvent. I began to get more excited.

"Listen! It says he appeared blameless, a quiet, intellectual type. That fits Budd, doesn't it?"

"Name?" Komako asked between bites.

"He'd change it. Oh, but it says he was an accomplished amateur musician!" I stared at Komako almost in awe. "Thornton!"

"This warming up!" He got to his feet at last. "Come, come, we make Mrs. Delmar talk."

ZONING OF LIQUOR IS TEMPORARY PLAN

COLUMBUS, May 13.—State Liquor Director Don Fisher approves the retail liquor store zoning plan only as a necessary expedient, he disclosed today.

He said the plan would be discarded as soon as it had served its purpose.

"The zone plan was inaugurated for two principal reasons," the director said.

"First, it was aimed at chain purchases by 'stooges' for establishments selling liquor by the drink. Zoning effectively prevented 'stooges' from buying bottles at a series of stores and drastically reduced one-bottle purchases for permit holders.

"Second, it was designed to facilitate the package liquor rationing program. Not only is it acquainting people with their neighborhood store, but—and more important—it will provide the department with a basis for allocating liquor to the stores. We shall know just how many qualified customers are to be served by each outlet."

Rationing is scheduled to take effect June 1.

Class Schedule Set
The Unity Bible class of the Methodist church will meet every two months instead of two weeks as was previously announced. The next meeting will be a picnic at Centennial park sometime in July.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Keyes of Cleveland st., have been called to Detroit by the sudden death of Mrs. Keyes' mother, Mrs. Blanche Billman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilson, who are leaving soon to make their home in Texas, were honored Monday evening with a coverdish dinner given by officers and teachers of the Methodist church at the church.

The dinner was served at a table attractive with red and white flowers and lighted tapers after which group singing and games were enjoyed. Scott McCorkhill and John Frederick Cone also entertained with a cello and vocal selection.

Mr. Wilson, acting superintendent and head of the intermediate department, was presented a gift from the group by Henry Reese, and Mrs. Wilson, teacher in the junior department, was presented a gift by Miss Esther Stewart.

The committee in charge of the arrangements included Roy West, Mrs. R. E. Smucker and Mrs. Carl Asmus.

Mothers Are Guests of Students

Forty-four mothers enjoyed the Hi-Tri Mother's day tea yesterday afternoon in the home economics department of the High school.

Miss Dorothy Haldi, president of the club and her mother, Mrs. C. R. Haldi, presided at the tea table, which was decorated with spring flowers and individual corsages, made by the girls, were presented to the mothers.

The program included a piano solo by Mary Byers; French horn selection, Mabel Hostetter, and vocal solo by Ina Mae Getz.

Miss Virginia Snyder served as chairman of the social committee and Miss Leah Morgan and the food classes were in charge of the dining room.

FOOD PRIORITIES EQUAL MUNITIONS

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A revamped farm machinery production program raising food to a No. 1 priority level with munitions and weapons is being formulated by the War Production board and food administration.

This was disclosed today by M. Lee Marshall, deputy food administrator in charge of supplies, machinery, equipment, materials and facilities.

Enough steel and other materials will be made available for farm machinery, beginning about July 1, to allow an output for 1944 crop use equivalent to about 80 per cent of 1940 production. Manufacture of machinery for this year's crops was held to less than 40 per cent of the 1940 volume under a WPB allocations program which gave munitions priority over food production supplies.

Marshall said he expected details of the new machinery program to be announced soon so as to allow manufacturers ample time to arrange for a speedup in their operations in July.

The 1943 machinery supply has been described as one of the weaker links in the food production chain. Food Administrator Chester C. Davis said recently the supply of new machinery for 1943 was not entirely satisfactory in view of the high production goals.

Davis' associate named J. B. Hutson, president of the Commodity Credit corporation, as deputy administrator in charge of food production programs and Roy P. Hendrickson as deputy administrator in charge of distribution.

Hendrickson, a former member of the Washington staff of the Associated Press, was a director of food distribution under secretary of Agriculture Wickard when the latter had charge of the war food program. Hutson will continue as president of the CCC.

The home poultry flock of 15 hens should produce at least 1,825 eggs a year.

'Kiwanis Club' Crew Wins Decorations

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, May 13.—The "New Guinea-New Britain Kiwanis club"—a hard-working heavy-bomber crew which specialized in sinking Japanese ships while merely reconnoitering—has been decorated for extraordinary achievement in combat.

Lieut. General George C. Kenney, commander of Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific, awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross to each member of the club, which derived its name from the fact the bomber pilot and club president, First Lieut. Henry L. Chovanec of Spokane, Wash., pronounced his name "Kiwanis."

"It's a Czech name," explained the lanky Hank, "and the 'Ch' is pronounced like K, the V like W, and the final C like an A."

The crew included Sergeant William C. Lowther, Canton, Ohio.

Chovanec and his crew won their medals on an armed reconnaissance mission over Fischhafen, New Guinea, and then on to Powell Point on Open bay southwest of Rabaul, New Britain, Feb. 6, 1943.

Off New Guinea the bomber crew sighted a two-masted, 500-ton camouflaged cargo vessel, dropped three 500-pound demolition bombs from 4,200 feet, and saw it burst into flames. It had to be beached.

Crossing New Britain over to the north coast, the bomber sighted two motor barges loaded with men and equipment in Riebeck bay, near Talasea. Chovanec made six strafing passes in the face of machine-gun fire, setting one barge on fire, silencing the enemy gun positions, inflicting casualties on a majority of the enemy troops and destroying most of the equipment.

Not satisfied, the "Kiwanis Club" flew on Near Powell Point its remaining three demolition bombs were dropped on a 500-ton Jap cargo ship which sank.

Veteran Gunner In Army Again To Give Kids Chance

DENVER — "It isn't me that counts. I enlisted to give our kids a chance to live in a free world—to free the world off the Nazi gangsters."

This was the statement of Sergt. Sam Gerber, 44, a veteran of World War I, now finishing up his aerial gunner course at Lowry field near Denver.

According to the field's publication, Rev-Meter, Sergeant Gerber said "goodbye" to his wife and two children now living in Los Angeles, and enlisted in May, 1942, giving up a job paying $600 a month.

But Gerber says he hopes to be able to repeat his war accomplishments of 1918.

Cited For Gallantry
Back in August and September of 1918, for instance, the paper stated, Gerber was a corporal in the 11th Machine Gun Battalion in France. He showed "distinguished and exceptional gallantry" on Sept. 26, 1918, in the operations of the American Expeditionary Forces.

According to Gen. John J. Pershing, from whose citation the foregoing was quoted:

Pershing's citation was awarded to Gerber for a slight sortie he had with the Germans just six weeks before the Armistice was declared. With a section of machine guns, Gerber was sent to silence an enemy battery of 77's which was holding up an infantry advance.

"In order to accomplish this mission it was necessary that Gerber set up his guns in an exposed position. This was done unhesitatingly, and the hostile battery was completely silenced."

"Please," says Gerber, "it isn't me that counts. I enlisted to give our kids a chance to live in a free world—to free the world of the Nazi gangsters."

Guns mounted on "wobble plates," that stimulate the jolting of a tank, are used to train tank gunners.

Paratroops Given

Training At Night

WASHINGTON—Increased training in night operations is being given Army paratroops at the Fort Benning Parachute school, the War Department disclosed today.

The department explained that instruction in flying, jumping and fighting at night is now offered at least twice a week at Fort Benning with a view to providing specific tactical problems encountered on the fighting fronts.

The school, under the direction of Brig. Gen. G. P. Howell, is part of the airborne command of Maj. Gen. Elbridge G. Chapman, Jr., and a component of the Army round Force, commanded by Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair.

Can Be Self-Sufficient

The department also disclosed that reports from overseas place paratroops on a par with ground forces as fighting units. Paratroops can be self-sufficient for at least 48 hours because of their equipment and food supplies.

Control in the air and aerial supply have proved decisive factors in making this isolation unimportant. Effective ground control, however, remains the salient problem confronting other Army units.

Land Close Together

Air control is maintained by flying planes as closely together as possible, with wings, noses and tails hardly ten yards apart. In mass jumping overseas, men have been landed with 50 to 75 yards of one another. Air officials now estimate that this figure can be reduced to 30 or 40 yards if necessary.

Front-line action in Africa has revealed the feasibility of dropping heavy guns with clusters of three chutes, and this has been developed to the extent that the gun, ammunition, and the crew, using seven chutes, can land in a 150-yard area.

Army officials declared that American paratroopers have thus far proved themselves highly efficient soldiers in combat. With the introduction of night fighting, trainers will be able to operate on "round-the-clock" assignments.

ARKANSAS RIVER GOES ON RAMPAGE

Levies Smashed, 6 Known Dead, 22 Missing, Hundreds Homeless

(By Associated Press)

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 13.—The worst Arkansas river flood in history gushed down the lower valley today, topping or smashing levees and flooding additional thousands of acres after cresting here at 41.7 feet—3.7 feet higher than the record stage which had stood 110 years.

Receding here almost as rapidly as it had risen, the river left in its wake six known dead, 22 missing, hundreds homeless and untold property damage in Oklahoma as it pushed its burden into Arkansas. Seven of the missing were Camp Gruber, Okla., soldiers engaged in rescue work.

Downstream, the U. S. engineers abandoned hope, with one exception, of saving any main line levees between here and Little Rock. They turned their attention to saving dikes below Little Rock on the Arkansas and St. Francis rivers in eastern Arkansas.

Fort Smith and Camp Chaffee were cut off from their principal sources of water with only six days supply in emergency reservoirs. Across the river, Van Buren was without light and power and one third of the community was under water. Some 600 blocks of Fort Smith, a city of 40,000, was under water ranging from a few inches to several feet in depth.

Fort Smith virtually was isolated. Only the rooftops of buildings in West Fort Smith, across the Arkansas-Oklahoma bridge, showed above the surface of a lake of back water that was five miles across.

CAIRO—Recent visitors to the mess of the commander in chief of the 8th Army, whose hard chairs and trestle tables have been used by the military leaders of half a dozen nations, make this report on the tastes of notables: General Montgomery is an abstainer, while Mr. Churchill likes his glass of brandy when in the desert; General Alexander likes wine and sherry; General Auchinleck always insisted on sherry in preference to any other drink; Frenchmen prefer wine, and Americans like beer when they can get it.

PORTERVILLE, Cal. — Police Judge E. E. Ridgway has placed a price ceiling of $3 each on peacock feathers. He fined four boys here $10 each for pulling 14 feathers out of the tail of a peacock in the city park. The boys said they had been offered $1.50 for each feather. The judge at once raised the ante by imposing fines that made the feathers cost the boys about $3 each.

NEW GUN MATCHES BEST NAZI WEAPON

EL PASO, Tex., May 13—American anti-aircraft strength is being bolstered by development of a new gun designed to match a five-inch-er believed in the possession of the Germans.

Brig. Gen. W. L. Richardson, brigade commander at Fort Bliss, told newsmen the new anti-aircraft gun was comparable to that Germany is using in defense of its cities.

The calibre of the new weapon cannot be disclosed, General Richardson said, but it is semi-mobile.

He also reported efficiency of American aircraft, shooting against unseen targets at night and in fog, is approaching the status of firing against visual targets. He said that "Radar," the instrument designed to locate unseen aircraft by radio and direct anti-aircraft fire to it automatically, is permitting us to fire almost as effectively against unseen targets at night as we do against visual ones in the daytime.

uge of rain which precludes big-scale military operations for about four months.

Presumably the question of whether an invasion could be undertaken then must depend in considerable degree on the state of the European fighting, since a great amount of shipping and other support would be necessary. Certainly the reopening of the Mediterranean ship lanes will facilitate operations in the Orient.

Strengthen Air Forces

In any event, the indications are the Allied high command is in process of strengthening the air forces in India and China and is increasing the volume of supplies which are sent mainly by air to the hard hit Chinese. The problem of delivering necessities to China is one of the most difficult with which the United Nations are faced. It apparently must remain so until the Burma road is reopened.

While Allied production has reached a point where greater aid can be sent to the Orient, and a major offensive against the Japs undoubtedly will be staged at the earliest possible moment, there is no indication the Washington conference is going to rest on its laurels in Europe while taking the Mikado's measure. Up to this juncture the announced aim of America, Britain and Russia has been to finish Hitler off as soon as possible. It will be most heartening if we are strong enough to broaden operations against Japan at the same time.

None can dispute that the longer the Japanese are allowed freedom to consolidate their conquests, the tougher they will be. The clearing of Burma is going to be a difficult job, for the minute Jap troops are thrown into a foreign land they go to ground like gophers and have to be dug out.

AFL MINE WORKERS
RELEASED BY ICKES

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Lloyd Thrush, president of the AFL-Progressive Mine Workers, announced today that the government had agreed to release from its operating control all mines in Illinois having contracts with his union.

Thrush said Federal Administrator Ickes had informed him that orders for the release, first to be granted since the government took over the mines May 1, would go out this afternoon or tomorrow.

Released, he said, will be 150 mines in Illinois employing 15,000 members of the AFL union.

Thrush said he and AFL President William Green had agreed there would be no work stoppage at these mines and that the progressive mine workers would make no attempt to raid the membership of John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers.

Says Certain Employers

and Navy Expense

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 13.—The War and Navy departments last night informed the house judiciary committee that legislation to enlarge Ohio's unemployment insurance fund appeared to be a device to benefit certain war plants at the expense of the federal government.

"The War and Navy departments feel that it's not the purpose of Ohio to impose an additional burden on the war effort," said a statement issued by Commander Eugene M. Meacham of the Navy judge advocate general's office and Major Thomas G. Carney of the Army judge advocate general's office.

They appeared personally before the committee, which is deliberating whether the bill should be recommended for passage in the house. It already has been approved by the senate.

H. C. Atkinson, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, declared it was not the intent of the legislation to favor certain employers at the federal government's expense.

Charles G. Nowacek, a representative of the Federal Social Security board, also criticized provisions of the bill, especially a clause allowing manufacturers to set up war contract business as a separate account for unemployment insurance taxation.

He said that if the measure were enacted into law in its present form the social security board might not give its approval.

AKRON TRANSPORT
SYSTEM IS HALTED

Thousands of War Workers
Depend On Motorists
To Reach Jobs

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, May 13.—A strike by CIO bus and street car operators today tied up Akron's mass transportation system making thousands of war workers dependent upon motorists to get to their jobs on time.

More than 200 operators walked out at 4 a. m. (Eastern War time) after pulling all the Akron Transportation Co.'s rolling stock off the streets.

During the morning rush hour, not a street car, bus or trolley bus was in sight at a downtown transfer point where thousands of workers change cars to reach the city's rubber plants.

Motorists passing the transfer point obligingly stopped their automobiles to pick up pedestrians.

The strike also tied up transportation to and from neighboring Barberton and Cuyahoga Falls, which are served by the Akron company.

Spokesmen for the company said the action came without warning.

The operators, members of the CIO Transport Workers union, threatened a strike several weeks ago to enforce wage demands, but continued working at request of the War Labor board which has union pay demands under consideration.

William H. Wright, president of the union local, said operators last night reached a decision on the walkout and asserted the company was "hiding behind the war effort in refusing or delaying settlement of grievances."

Representatives of both the company and the union expressed willingness to meet with Federal Conciliator Paul Fuller in an effort to reach an early settlement of the dispute.

Churchill Broadcasts

LONDON, May 13.—Prime Minister Churchill is expected to recapitulate the Allied victory in North Africa and perhaps hint at the purpose of his current conferences with President Roosevelt in a broadcast to the British people from Washington at 9 p. m. (3 p. m. EDT) tomorrow.

The address, which will mark the anniversary of the founding of the British Home Guard, will be the prime minister's first such message to the nation since March 21.

HALSEY, M'ARTHUR
HOLD CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press)

AN ADVANCED SOUTH PACIFIC BASE, May 13.—Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., naval commander-in-chief in this area, has conferred for the first time with General Douglas MacArthur at the latter's headquarters in Australia, the Navy's South Pacific command announced today.

Reporting Halsey's return from the conference, an official announcement said "the discussions centered on the closest cooperation and coordination of the two commands, utilizing the total means at their disposal."

"Personal respects were exchanged for the first time" by the two commanders, the headquarters statement continued, adding: "Details broached at this meeting between General MacArthur and Admiral Halsey are being perfected by continuing conferences between representatives of both commands."

Observers here agree the MacArthur-Halsey conference may be the signal for a new phase in the Pacific war. A headquarters spokesman observed that the only reason Halsey had not visited MacArthur's headquarters before was because the admiral had been "too busy fighting a war."

The spokesman remarked that while it could not be said the tide of Japanese aggression had been turned, it now was certain at least that the tide had been stemmed.

HOUSE APPROVES
JUDGES' PENSION

And Government Experts
Begin to Figure What
It Will Cost State

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 13.—House endorsement of a plan for retiring Ohio judges on a maximum pension of $3600 a year caused the state government's experts to begin figuring today what it would cost the state, if anything.

The senate finance committee went to work on the question after the house passed the bill, 73 to 54, and returned it to the senate for concurrence in amendments.

The committee must have the information so that it can provide any necessary money in the biennial appropriation bill.

Advocates of the retirement system contended that the judges' contributions from their salaries—4 per cent up to $7,200—would be adequate to pay the pensions.

Sees Great Cost

However, Senator Carl D. Sheppard (R) of Akron, a member of the finance committee, declared the system would cost the state, cities and counties "a tremendous sum."

Senator Stanley G. McKie (R) of Cincinnati concurred as they asked state Finance Director H. D. Defenbacher to determine the exact amount. Sheppard, McKie and Senator Emil Bartunek (D) of Cleveland were assigned to investigate for the committee.

Before the legislation can go to the governor for his signature, the senate must approve house amendments limiting the pensions to $3600 a year and fixing the retirement age at 65 years. When the bill passed the senate it provided a maximum $6,000 pension and a 60-year retirement age.

Any judge of a court of record, who participated in the plan, could retire on one-fourth pay after 12 years' service or on half pay after 18 years on the bench.

Rep. Aaron T. Grad (R) of Cincinnati declared that a pension system would "buttress the judiciary by removing judges' worries about future income."

Rep. Lody Huml (D) of Cleveland told the house that if all the judges participated in the plan, they would contribute $87,000 a year. If "an average number of judges" with 12 years' service retired, he said, the pensions would not cost more than $58,700 a year.

Rep. Paul L. McCormick (R) of Logan county, contending the proposed system was actually unsound, predicted that the state eventually would have to match the judges' contributions, dollar for dollar.

Suggests Assessments

An informed source said that any city or county contributing to a judge's salary could be assessed for funds to build up a reserve—possibly $500,000—from which the pensions might be paid.

The house yesterday voted down a bill which would have allowed a married woman to file bastardy proceedings against a man other than her husband. The measure also would have authorized judges to exclude the public from illegitimacy trials.

The senate sent the female labor bill to the governor after concurring in the emergency clause attached by the house, and passed to the house a bill creating a 13-member commission to investigate small business failures and recommend a program to minimize them. The house completed enactment.

Declared Guilty

In the first case of its kind in U. S. history, Theodore Donay, saber-scarred former Detroit importer, has been convicted of treason in concealing Max Stephan's activities in behalf of an escaped German war prisoner. The government contended that Donay, shown in court, was not only aware of Stephan's treasonous acts but actually attempted to aid the escape of the German flyer, Lieut. Peter Krug. Stephan is under sentence of death for treason.

of legislation authorizing the Clermont county commissioners to pay not more than $1500 to Clarence Berry of Amelia, who was shot in a leg while pursuing a fugitive.

The house also gave final approval to a bill prohibiting possession of obscene motion pictures.

45 Broke Game Laws
COLUMBUS, May 13.—Only 45 persons were convicted of violating Ohio's fish and game laws during April, the state division of conservation and natural resources reported. Fines amounted to $795 and costs $208.

County Meet Here Tomorrow Seen As Two-Team Event

EAST PALESTINE, SALEM TO BATTLE FOR TRACK TITLE

Brown and White Shows Best Balance Throughout 14 Events

Although four schools are entered in the annual Columbiana county track and field meet at Rely stadium tomorrow night, the event, following the pattern of recent years, sizes up as largely a two-team contest between Salem and East Palestine, with the edge favoring the latter on the basis of performances to date.

East Liverpool and Wellsville are the two other contenders. Preliminaries in the shot and discus, followed by the finals, will be started at 6 p. m. Preliminaries also will be run in the 100 yard dash, the 220, and the low and high hurdles.

The finals are scheduled to start at 7:30.

Wellsville will have a few outstanding competitors, although East Liverpool is figured to pick off points in the sprints.

Christian, Pottery City speedster, won both the 100 and the 220 last year and is likely to be right in there again this year. He has reeled off the century in 10.5 and the 220 in 23.5 to date in warmup trials.

East Liverpool also has the best time in the county to date in the half-mile relay, 1:38.8.

Palestine Well-Balanced
East Palestine, however, has strength well scattered throughout the 14 events with Kell as their standout performer. Kell is hoped to pick off individual honors of advance predictions are carried out.

He holds the county discus record, 130 feet, 7 inches, which he set as a Freshman and tied last year. He has bettered that distance in workouts this season. He has also been tossing the shot 42 feet, 7 inches in his best efforts. The Brown and White also figure Kell to pick up points in the sprints.

Lindsey of East Palestine and Flick Entriokin have both topped the bamboo at 10 feet, 3 inches, in the pole vault and this event ought to develop a real contest.

Roberts of East Palestine has won the half-mile and the mile three years in a row. His best time in the mile this year is 4:46 and the half-mile, 2:06.

The Palestine lads also hold the best county time to date in the mile relay, the quartet being clocked at 3:51, although that's only a hair ahead of the best Salem time to date.

Carter of East Palestine, who has been high jumping five feet, seven inches, looms as the man to beat in this event.

Entriokin of Salem has been setting the pace in the hurdles, being timed at 17.1 in the high sticks and 27.5 for the low. Ferko has been doing the quarter mile in 54.6 and Bingham has been really going to town in the broad jump. His best distance in this to date is 20 feet, 10 inches, which certainly should put him into the point brackets.

With any breaks at all, however, Coach Ray Overturf is confident his Quakers will give the East Palestine lads a run for their money.

TRIBE CROWDING YANKEES, BUT IT'S STILL SPRING YET

Indians, However, Playing Consistently, Rather Than Brilliantly

By JUDSON BAILEY

The Cleveland Indians are crowding the New York Yankees for first place in the American league, but there is no way of telling yet whether the tribe is on the warpath or simply doing its spring moving. In recent years the Indians have moved menacingly in the spring and usually subsided in the summer. Last year they won 13 consecutive games in an April sprint and created some early excitement among their followers. On May 2 they were six full games in front of the Yankees, but they went into a six-game losing streak and there is no point in recalling the subsequent details.

This spring the Indians have not been as flashy, have had no winning streaks, but they have not lost two consecutive games. This may mean they will stick in the scrap. They overpowered the Washington Senators last night 8-2 to move within one game of the pace-setting Yankees, who were beaten at Chicago 2-1 in ten innings for their second straight setback.

Misses a Shutout
Chubby Dean held the senators to six hits and had a shutout till the ninth. He also lost a shutout in the ninth in his only other start—against the White Sox last week. Dean's pitching was supported by a 13-hit attack on the part of his teammates, their biggest spree of the season.

The Yankees' whipping by the White Sox was the handiwork of Johnny Humphries and Joe Kuhel. Humphries pitched six-hit ball, made two hits and started the rally that tied the score in the eighth. Kuhel slugged him home with the tying tally and then in the tenth singled Rookie Thurman Tucker across with the winning run.

Ernie Bonham, the Yankees' ace, went the route and was tapped for nine hits. The Philadelphia Athletics and Detroit Tigers battled in a 15-inning marathon at Detroit before a single by Ned Harris gave the Tigers a 3-2 victory.

The St. Louis Browns staggered the bruised and bleeding Boston Red Sox 6-4 with Chet Laabs hitting a three-run homer—his second roundtripper of the season. It was the fourth loss in a row and 14th in 20 games for the last place Red Soxers, who made only six hits. All National league games were postponed because of unfavorable weather in the east.

ST. LOUIS—Four former major leaguers and many other topnotchers are on the Lambert Field naval air station baseball squad. Lt. Clarence Anderson, manager and coach, is a former New York Giant; third baseman Johnny Bernadino was with the St. Louis Browns. Bob Scheffing was a Cub catcher, and Bill Mueller a White Sox outfielder.

COLUMBUS IS ONE OF RANKING TEAMS

The pace-setting Columbus Red Birds shared their American Association league lead with Indianapolis Indians and the Kansas City Blues today.

The combination of a victory for Indianapolis, a defeat for Columbus and a postponement for Kansas City last night left those clubs in a three way tie for first place in the loop.

Big Johnny Whitehead and pinch hitter, Al Zarilla got together to knock Columbus from undisputed leadership. Zarilla hit a home run.

Play Double-Header

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Cincinnati's Reds and the Phillies try again today to play ball with a doubleheader created by yesterday's postponement.

Ray Starr and Elmer Riddle are the Cincinnati pitchers, against St. Johnson and Johnny Podgajny.

PASADENA, Calif.—When Policewoman Margaret Haskins began riding to work on a motor-scooter, her friends smiled. Later, when she graduated to a full-fledged motorcycle, they laughed. But when she applied for and got the appointment of a member of the motorcycle police corps—the first woman motorcycle police officer in California—they just took it a little more seriously.

Answer to yesterday's puzzle.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The postman has to work anyway (you know that "neither rain nor snow" line) so why should we both do it? Here's today's offering, courtesy of U. S. postoffice dept. and various contributors:

Excellent Excerpts

From Gabe Paul's news of the Reds: "Around the clock baseball offered to Reds' patrons." Sounds like a diamond version of the six-day bike race. From Jimmy Johnston's latest communication about his newest fighter: "The most amazing list of knockouts on anybody's record is that compiled by Jan Wilby." In these days of point rationing, wonder if Jimmy stopped to think that "ham" might lose on points.

Today's Guest Star

Lewis Burton, New York Journal-American: "A senior ginja of Mexico City and Lisbon is seeking to interest Mike Jacobs in bull fight promoting around New York. Individually, bull and fight are two of the best products of Mr Jacobs' office."

High School Jinks

Reese Hart of the Raleigh, N. C., Times wants to know if it was a record when the Raleigh High school baseballers swiped 29 bases in two games—13 against Durham and 16 against Rocky Mount. Henry G. King of the Huntington, W. Va., Advertiser reports that right hander Dave Stender pitched three consecutive one-hit games for Huntington Central High before he finally got his lumps. Don Short of St. John's prep in Brooklyn has allowed eleven hits and one unearned run in five games.

Service Dept.

Commenting on the recurring rumor (which isn't true) that ex-middleweight champion Fred Apostoli has been killed in action, Bill Diehl of the Norfolk, Va., Ledger-Dispatch quotes a letter Fred wrote just before Christmas: "I know I am doing the right thing in being out here. Nothing else matters, because this is it. Occasionally I have been boxing and the boys are very enthusiastic about it."

CAMP CALLAN, Cal.—This camp specializes in the training of twins for the armed forces. There are now five pairs of identical twins taking their Army training here. They are Thomas and William Sawhill, 19, of Richmond Heights, Mo.; Clifford C. and Gifford C. Wilhelson, 19, of Newberg, Ore.; David L. and Ernest H. Knops, 24, of Berkeley, Cal.; Robert and Roland Hill, 20 (whose mother was also a twin), of Illinois; and Benjie and Bernie Massey, 20, of Heavener, Okla. Each pair of twins succeeded in getting assigned to the same battalion.

COORDINATOR FOR SPORTS RUMORED; CANDIDATES EYED

F. D. R. Understood To Be Ready to Appoint Senator to James Mead

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 13.—A National coordinator for all sports, rumored for nearly a year, is likely to be named by President Roosevelt within a month, and U. S. Senator James Mead, who advocated cancellation of the World Series and All Star games less than three months ago, is the leading candidate for the job.

Word on the early appointment of such a sports officer, whose big job will be to decide how the nation's sports "can be handled without affecting the war effort," came last night from Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman of the New York Racing commission and consultant on public policy to the War department.

In a speech at a dinner closing the two-day meeting of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners, Swope pointed out racing has received a green light from Washington.

Active in Turf Circles

Less than a year ago, Swope removed himself as a possible candidate for the office of sports coordinator because he felt he was too busy with his various jobs as racing commissioner, War department consultant, head of the Turf Committee of America, which raised the turf's $3,000,000 contribution to the war effort in 1942.

Senator Mead, from Buffalo, N. Y., is supposed to have the inside track on the job Swope turned down. Mead is a vice president of the Buffalo (International league) baseball club. On March 1 he came out for cancellation of baseball's two fanciest shows to relieve the strain on the nation's transportation system.

Larry MacPhail, who made the Brooklyn Dodgers tick until the army took him last fall, also was mentioned for the job, but it was learned no man in uniform would be considered. Representative Sam

Weiss of Glassport, Pa., near Pittsburgh, also was reported among possible candidates. And ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York, father of this state's boxing and Sunday baseball laws, has been given serious consideration.

"There is no doubt a sports coordinator is necessary," Swope said. "Such a man in Washington would do a lot of good if in no other way than to prevent mistakes being made."

LAMOTTA DOWNS FERRARA IN SIXTH

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, May 13.—Promoter Benny Becker's campaign to revive big-time boxing in Cincinnati was off to an inauspicious start today. Jake LaMotta, middleweight contender from the Bronx, scored a sixth-round technical knockout over Tony Ferrara of Brooklyn last night in a scheduled 10-round feature that Becker said was intended as a "feeler" to see if the fans wanted topflight ring cards again.

And it looked today like the fans didn't. Becker said he guaranteed LaMotta and Ferrara a total of $3,000 and that only 1,624 customers donated $2,525 toward the "revival" cause.

The fight, itself, didn't help much. It was a lopsided affair. LaMotta, who weighed 160, thumped Ferrara soundly after the second round and the referee halted it as the Brooklyn battler sunk to the canvas for the fourth time in the sixth round.

News and Views, Briefly
On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 13. — The possibilities of India as a strategic site for Allied stabs at Japan were believed to be under discussion today as President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill continued their council of war, flanked by top-flight fighting men from the India-Burma theater.

Apart from that conference, the capital concentrated on an assortment of problems involving war production, wage and price controls, taxes, trade treaties and farm machinery priorities.

The news the United States "at last has the machine tools and the capital equipment it needs to build production to defeat the Axis" was tempered by a threat of unemployment in munitions centers.

Thousands of workers will be affected by the War Production board's decision, announced yesterday, to halt virtually all plant projects which cannot be completed by October, and many thousands more will be left idle during production switchovers in munitions and machine tool plants.

They'll Find Jobs
However, WPB officials declared every worker thus released could be absorbed quickly by other war industries which still are clamoring for help.

On the stabilization front, the War Labor board had authority to adjust wages "to aid in the effective prosecution of the war or to correct gross inequities," provided price ceilings or production cost levels are not affected. Those concessions, granted yesterday by Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes, substantially fulfilled the requests which have been made by the board for more than a month, gave it a judicial basis again in the opinion of its public members, and were believed to have quelled an incipient labor revolt.

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown also was active in the cost of living battle, disclosing plans to hire 1,400 more OPA investigators to help roll back prices and asserting the nation's new subsidy program slated to start in June would be strictly experimental.
